Seuls - Authors: Mélanie Baillaigré

Chaque année, plus de 400 adolescents arrivent au Canada sans parents ou adultes pour leur accompagner, en cherchant l'état de réfugié. Cet œuvre raconte l'histoire de trois de ces jeunes, Afshin, Alain et Patricia. Cela explore leurs sacrifices à travers leur voyage, (thèmes d'orientation sexuelle et la discrimination) ainsi que le courage et résistance dont ils ont besoin pour arriver à un pays où le danger ne fait pas partie de la vie quotidienne. C'est une adaptation d'un documentaire du même nom par l'auteur Paul Tom et produit par Picbois Productions. Paul est né aux parents Cambodgiens dans un camp des réfugiés en Thaïlande, il donne une voix à ceux et celles de qui nous n'entendons pas.

Aube - Patrick Blanchette

Une bande dessinée de fantaisie, l'héroïne Aube est en train d'étudier pour devenir un ingénieur de rêves – un titre que (jusqu'à date) n'était pas disponible aux humaines. Son enseignant, Marshall Desable, a inventé le réacteur onirique. Le meilleur ami d'Aube, Volt, est un ancien membre des escouade des endormeurs et aussi, aime des blagues. C'est le premier œuvre dans une série de livres. L'auteur, Patrick Blanchette vient du Québec et il était inspiré par l'animation japonaise et les dessins animés de l'Amérique.

L'enfant au désert - Pierre Rabhi et Claire Eggermont

Pierre Rabhi semble avoir eu mille vies. Né dans une oasis du Sahara, le garçon est confié à l'âge de quatre ans à une famille d'adoption. L'enfant du désert découvre le tourbillon de la grande ville d'Oran. Plus tard, il s'embarque pour Paris où il travaillera dans une usine. C'est là qu'il rencontre Michèle, sa future femme. Ensemble, ils décident de s'installer à la campagne, en Ardèche. Sur cette terre asséchée et rocailleuse, avec patience, ils réalisent leur rêve: cultiver un jardin respectueux de la nature, qui pourrait les nourrir et leur permettre de vivre autrement.

Dans ce récit poétique et engagé, Pierre Rabhi s'adresse pour la première fois aux enfants pour leur raconter son histoire et partager ses idées en faveur de la planète.

Shuni - Naomi Fontaine

Naomi Fontaine écrit une longue lettre à son amie Shuni, une jeune Québécoise venue dans sa communauté pour aider les Innus. Elle convoque l'histoire. Surgissent les visages de la mère, du père, de la grand-mère. Elle en profite pour s'adresser à Petit ours, son fils. Les paysages de Uashat défilent, fragmentés, radieux. Elle raconte le doute qui mine le coeur des colonisés, l'impossible combat d'être soi. Shuni, cette lettre fragile et tendre, dit la force d'inventer l'avenir, la lumière de la vérité. La vie est un cercle où tout recommence.

Je m'appelle Maryam - Maryam Madjidi

Avec ses parents, Maryam doit quitter le pays où elle est née.

Elle va devoir dire au revoir à ses poupées. Apprendre à jongler avec la langue d'ici et la langue de Là-bas. Manger des plats qu'elle n'a jamais goûtés. Découvrir un monde où il faut tout recommencer. Un monde où elle est une inconnue.

Jusqu'à ce que quelqu'un lui demande: "Comment tu t'appelles?"

Souris - Raina Telgemeier

Raina veut simplement être comme tous les autres élèves de sixième année. Mais un soir, après la réunion des jeannettes, elle trébuche et endommage gravement ses deux dents de devant. S'ensuit une longue et frustrante série d'interventions: des broches qu'on lui installe, lui enlève et lui remet encore et ainsi de suite, une chirurgie, le port d'un appareil externe gênant, et même celui d'un appareil de rétention auquel se trouvent fixées deux fausses dents! Chemin faisant, Raina doit composer avec bien d'autres péripéties de la vie: un gros tremblement de terre, les incertitudes au sujet des garçons, les soi-disant copines. L'histoire de Raina nous conduit de l'école intermédiaire à l'école secondaire, où elle découvre sa sensibilité artistique, apprend le sens de l'amitié véritable et où elle peut enfin...sourire.

Braiding Sweetgrass for Young Adults* - Authors: Robin Wall Kimmerer; adapted by Monique Gray Smith

Braiding Sweetgrass for Young Adults is the adaption of Robin Wall Kimmerer's best-selling book Braiding Sweetgrass. This book is adapted by Monique Gray Smith and illustrated by Nicole Neidhardt.

From her experiences as an Indigenous scientist, botanist Robin Wall Kimmerer demonstrated how all living things—from strawberries and witch hazel to water lilies and lichen—provide us with gifts and lessons every day in her best-selling book Braiding Sweetgrass. Adapted for young adults by Monique Gray Smith, this new edition reinforces how wider ecological understanding stems from listening to the earth's oldest teachers: the plants around us. With informative sidebars, reflection questions, and art from illustrator Nicole Neidhardt, Braiding Sweetgrass for Young Adults brings Indigenous wisdom, scientific knowledge, and the lessons of plant life to a new generation.

Four Faces of the Moon* - Author: Amanda Strong

On a journey to uncover her family's story, Spotted Fawn travels through time and space to reclaim connection to ancestors, language, and the land in this essential graphic novel.

In the dreamworld, she bears witness to a mountain of buffalo skulls, a ghostly monument to the slaughter of the buffalo—a key tactic to starve and contain the Indigenous People onto reservations.

Spotted Fawn must travel through her own family history to confront the harsh realities of the past and reignite her connection to her people and the land. Her darkroom becomes a portal, allowing her glimpses into the lives of her relatives. Guided by her ancestors, Spotted Fawn's travels through the past allow her to come into full face—like the moon itself.

City of Dragons: The Awakening Storm* - Author: Jaimal Yogis

When Grace moves to Hong Kong with her mom and new stepdad, her biggest concern is making friends at her fancy new boarding school. But when a mysterious old woman gifts her a dragon egg during a field trip, Grace discovers that the wonderful stories of dragons she heard when she was a young girl might actually be real—especially when the egg hatches overnight.

The dragon has immense powers that Grace has yet to understand. And that puts them both in danger from mysterious forces intent on abusing the dragon's power. And now it's up to Grace and her school friends to uncover the sinister plot threatening the entire city!

Clean Getaway - Author: Nic Stone

How to Go on an Unplanned Road Trip with Your Grandma:

- Grab a Suitcase: Prepacked from the big spring break trip that got CANCELLED.
- Fasten Your Seatbelt: G'ma's never conventional, so this trip won't be either.
- Use the Green Book: G'ma's most treasured possession. It holds history, memories, and most important, the way home.

What Not to Bring:

- A Cell Phone: Avoid contact with Dad at all costs. Even when G'ma starts acting stranger than usual.

Take a trip through the American South with the New York Times bestselling author Nic Stone and an eleven-year-old boy who is about to discover that the world hasn't always been a welcoming place for kids like him, and things aren't always what they seem--his G'ma included.

The Best At It - Author: Maulik Pancholy

Rahul Kapoor is heading into seventh grade in a small town in Indiana. The start of middle school is making him feel increasingly anxious, so his favorite person in the whole world, his grandfather, Bhai, gives him some well-meaning advice: Find one thing you're really good at and become the BEST at it.

Those four little words sear themselves into Rahul's brain. While he's not quite sure what that special thing is, he is convinced that once he finds it, bullies like Brent Mason will stop torturing him at school. And he won't be worried about staring too long at his classmate Justin Emery. With his best friend, Chelsea, by his side, Rahul is ready to crush this challenge.... But what if he discovers he isn't the best at anything.

Yusuf Azeem is Not a Hero - Author: Saadia Faruqi

Yusuf Azeem has spent all his life in the small town of Frey, Texas—and nearly that long waiting for the chance to participate in the regional robotics competition, which he just knows he can win.

Only, this year is going to be more difficult than he thought. Because this year is the twentieth anniversary of the 9/11 terrorist attacks, an anniversary that has everyone in his Muslim community on edge.

With “Never Forget” banners everywhere and a hostile group of townspeople protesting the new mosque, Yusuf realizes that the country's anger from two decades ago hasn't gone away. Can he hold onto his joy—and his friendships—in the face of heartache and prejudice?

Surviving the City (Vol. 1)* - Author: Tasha Spillett-Sumner

Miikwan and Dez are best friends. Miikwan is Anishinaabe; Dez is Innineew. Together, the teens navigate the challenges of growing up in an urban landscape—they're so close, they even completed their Berry Fast together.

However, when Dez's grandmother becomes too sick, Dez is told she can't stay with her anymore. With the threat of a group home looming, Dez can't bring herself to go home and disappears. Miikwan is devastated, and the wound of her missing mother resurfaces. Will Dez's community find her before it's too late? Will Miikwan be able to cope if they don't?

Surviving the City (Vol. 2)* - Author: Tasha Spillett-Sumner

Dez and Miikwan's stories continue in this sequel to Surviving the City...

Dez's grandmother has passed away. Grieving, and with nowhere else to go, she's living in a group home. On top of everything else, Dez is navigating a new relationship and coming into her identity as a Two-Spirit person.

Miikwan is crushing on the school's new kid Riel, but doesn't really understand what Dez is going through. Will she learn how to be a supportive ally to her best friend?

Elder Geraldine is doing her best to be supportive, but she doesn't know how to respond when the gendered protocols she's grown up with that are being thrown into question.

Will Dez be comfortable expressing her full identity? And will her community relearn the teachings and overcome prejudice to celebrate her for who she is?

Fish in a Tree* - Author: Lynda Mullaly Hunt

Ally has been smart enough to fool a lot of smart people. Every time she lands in a new school, she is able to hide her inability to read by creating clever yet disruptive distractions. She is afraid to ask for help; after all, how can you cure dumb? However, her newest teacher Mr. Daniels sees the bright, creative kid underneath the trouble maker. With his help, Ally learns not to be so hard on herself and that dyslexia is nothing to be ashamed of. As her confidence grows, Ally feels free to be herself and the world starts opening up with possibilities. She discovers that there's a lot more to her—and to everyone—than a label, and that great minds don't always think alike.

New Kid - Author: Jerry Craft

Seventh grader Jordan Banks loves nothing more than drawing cartoons about his life. But instead of sending him to the art school of his dreams, his parents enroll him in a prestigious private school known for its academics, where Jordan is one of the few kids of color in his entire grade.

As he makes the daily trip from his Washington Heights apartment to the upscale Riverdale Academy Day School, Jordan soon finds himself torn between two worlds—and not really fitting into either one. Can Jordan learn to navigate his new school culture while keeping his neighborhood friends and staying true to himself?

This middle grade graphic novel is an excellent choice for tween readers, including for summer reading.

This is our Rainbow - A collection of works (various authors)

The first LGBTQA+ anthology for middle-graders featuring stories for every letter of the acronym, including realistic, fantasy, and sci-fi stories.

A boyband fandom becomes a conduit to coming out. A former bully becomes a first-kiss prospect. One nonbinary kid searches for an inclusive athletic community after quitting gymnastics. Another nonbinary kid, who happens to be a pirate, makes a wish that comes true—but not how they thought it would. A tween girl navigates a crush on her friend's mom. A young witch turns herself into a puppy to win over a new neighbor. A trans girl empowers her online bestie to come out.

From wind-breathing dragons to first crushes, This Is Our Rainbow features story after story of joyful, proud LGBTQA+ representation.

Note: Says "Dead-Ass" (as in, "Dead-ass serious")

Ancestor Approved - A collection of works (various authors)

Indigenous families from Nations across the continent gather at the Dance for Mother Earth Powwow in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

In a high school gym full of color and song, people dance, sell beadwork and books, and celebrate friendship and heritage. Young protagonists will meet relatives from faraway, mysterious strangers, and sometimes one another (plus one scrappy rez dog).

They are the heroes of their own stories.

The Serpent's Secret - Author: Sayantani DasGupta

On the morning of her twelfth birthday, Kiranmala is just a regular sixth grader living in Parsippany, New Jersey... until her parents mysteriously vanish and a drooling rakkhosh demon slams through her kitchen, determined to eat her alive. Turns out there might be some truth to her parents' fantastical stories-like how Kiranmala is a real Indian princess and how she comes from a secret place not of this world.

To complicate matters, two crush-worthy princes ring her doorbell, insisting they've come to rescue her. Suddenly, Kiran is swept into another dimension full of magic, winged horses, moving maps, and annoying, talking birds. There she must solve riddles and battle demons all while avoiding the Serpent King of the underworld and the Rakkhoshi Queen in order to find her parents and basically save New Jersey, her entire world, and everything beyond it.

Note: Says "Crap!" (Chapter 8)

Thanks A Lot, Universe - Author: Chad Lucas

Brian has always been anxious, whether at home, or in class, or on the basketball court. His dad tries to get him to stand up for himself and his mom helps as much as she can. But after he and his brother are placed in foster care, Brian starts having panic attacks. And he doesn't quite know if there's something wrong with him . . .

Ezra's always been popular. He's friends with most of the kids on his basketball team—even Brian, who doesn't talk to many people. But now, some of his friends have been acting differently, and Brian seems to be pulling away. Ezra wants to help, but he worries if he's too nice to Brian, his friends will realize that he has a crush on him . . .

But when Brian and his brother run away, Ezra has no choice but to take the leap and reach out to Brian. And Brian realizes that he could really use a friend right now. As the two get closer, they'll have to decide if they're willing to risk being vulnerable with each other and share parts of themselves they'd rather hide from the world. But if they can be brave, they might just find the best in themselves—and each other. With a lively voice and moving story, Thanks a Lot, Universe is about finding your community and learning to trust your heart.

I Can Make You This Promise - Author: Christine Day

All her life, Edie has known that her mom was adopted by a white couple. So, no matter how curious she might be about her Indigenous heritage, Edie is sure her family doesn't have any answers. Until the day when she and her friends discover a box hidden in the attic—a box full of letters signed "Love, Edith," and photos of a woman who looks just like her.

Suddenly, Edie has a flurry of new questions about this woman who shares her name. Could she belong to the Indigenous family that Edie never knew about? But if her mom and dad have kept this secret from her all her life, how can she trust them to tell her the truth now?
